EDITORIAL NOTES.

MR. J. Creighton, warden of the Kingston Penitentiary is seriously ill.

MR. Hugh Graham, of the Montreal Star, has generously donated $5,000 to the establishment of a free library in that city.

MR. DONALD A SMITH offers $50,000 for the endowment of a college for women in connection with McGill, Montreal.

JUDGMENT has been delivered in the South Renfrew election case setting aside the election and disqualifying Dr. Dowling with costs to be paid by him.

DURING an accident to the Czar's carriage in Warsaw the other evening, the people recognized the Czar, and shouted "Long live the King of Poland."

SIR RICHARD TEMPLE has written a letter expressing the gratitude of the members of the British Association, for the kind treatment they received in Toronto.

THE Army and Navy Gazette declares that it is the opinion of every man who knows the Nile, that the boats, which have been ordered by the government are useless and only fit for firewood.

MR. GLADSTONE, who was said to be looking very pale, exhausted, and feverishly excited immediately after his campaign, and who got a lecture from his physician, has just climbed the second highest mountain in Scotland.

SOME time ago it was complained that in the United States a man delivered up in Canada for one crime had been tried for another; and there was some diplomatic correspondence on the subject. But this case only proved how desirable it is to make extradition easy, so that the officers of the law would not resort to tricks in order to carry their point. The interests of commercial morality are concerned in making easy the arrest of rogues, and in Canada there would be but one feeling on this matter.

THE Hon. M. C. Cameron has been appointed Chief Justice of Ontario. The Hon. John O'Connor has been elevated to the position occupied by Mr. Justice Cameron. Mr. O'Connor has been a long time in public life, and has filled important positions as a colleague of Sir John Macdonald, and was the accepted representative of the Irish Catholic body in Ontario. He entered public life in 1867, and continued, with varying fortunes, to be in politics till the general election of 1882, when he retired. He has filled at various times the offices of President of the Council, Minister of Inland Revenue, and Postmaster General.

THE new Montreal daily Liberal paper, the Times, of which Mr. James Stewart, formerly of the Herald, is the managing director, has made its first appearance. It is printed from new type and is exceedingly well arranged and got up, whilst on the whole it presents a very neat appearance, which reflects credit on its promoters. On the whole the paper looks more attractive than any of its rivals in the local field. The show of advertisements in the first number far surpasses what is usually the case at the outset of a journal's career, and it looks as if it was about to become a permanent success. The Victoria TIMES extends a fraternal greeting to its eastern new born namesake, and wishes it every success.

ARE THEY NECESSARY?

For some time the question has been seriously discussed in political circles as to whether it is necessary for each of the Canadian Provinces to have a Lieutenant-Governor. Many claim that such an official is necessary, but advocate the election of a person to this position by the popular vote of the electorate. An advanced wing of the Liberal party are in favor of abolishing the office entirely. They claim that the simpler and less costly the legislative machinery of a country is, the more advantageous, in a general sense, will be its administration. Lieutenant-Governors are costly, expensive and under our parliamentary system of government useless functionaries. Were they endowed de facto and not de jure with the veto power as the governors of the American States are, or possessed the right to reject one or more items in the supply bill, then the argument in favor of their election and retention as against their abolition, would be irresistibly strong. Under our parliamentary system the higher powers and functions of the sovereign and her representatives have fallen into practical disuse, and the 'Lieutenant-Governors merely give assent pro forma to the legislation of the day, or when the veto power is exercised it is done so, with the advice and consent of their advisers. It is true that Letellier in Quebec set up the counter-plea to our contention; but from the Conservative party came his removal, the most severe blow struck at the pretensions of monarchy in modern times. The removal of Letellier settled the question once and for ever, so far as this Dominion is concerned, and we are disposed to abide by the result. These functionaries being useless then why retain them? Why tax the people of Canada from $100,000 upwards annually for their maintenance? But it will be said some one or other than the premier should give effect to the legislation of parliament or the orders in council. The proposal in this relation is that the Chief Justice of each Province should discharge those functions. They are light, and the annual saving to the country, even if the judges' salaries be slightly advanced to cover their increased duties, will be about $100,000; a sum which in itself is considerable.

THE BRITISH BEYOND THE SEA.

Sir Thomas McIlwraith, ex-Prime Minister of Queensland, in an interview with a representative of the Pall Mall Budget expressed himself very freely in reference to the "British beyond the sea:" "Yes!" said Sir Thomas McIlwraith, somewhat bitterly, "I am going back to the colony with a deep conviction that so far as the Liberals—or, at any rate, such leaders of the Liberals as Mr. Gladstone, Lord Derby, Lord Kimberley, and others—are concerned, they would not stretch forth a finger to save the colonies to the empire. They would just as soon as not that all the colonial possessions of England were declared independent to-morrow, as that they should remain under the old flag. It has been a bitter disappointment to me, but it has been impressed on me again and again. I have traveled up and down the country, I have had interviews with many representatives of both parties, and that is the conclusion to which I have arrived; and that conviction I will express as soon as I reach Queensland." "But Sir Thomas, you are entirely and totally wrong. Cannot we induce you not to utter such a calumny at the other end of the world? What you say may perhaps be true concerning the old school of Cobdenite policy, which is now effete, and will soon be decently interred. But do not judge the Liberal party by the few representatives of an antiquated school of political thought. The new Liberalism the Liberalism of the future—looks at all those matters in a very different light. To us the English beyond the sea and the English at home are but one family and one State; and the maintenance of its integrity and unity is to our minds a question immeasurably greater than any now before the public." "I think so," said Sir Thomas; "but do you tell me that Lord Derby thinks so, or Lord Kimberley, or Mr. Bright? What was said only the other day by an eminent member of the present Government? 'We are more interested if our neighbour's chimney takes fire than if a thousand men perish at the other end of the world. For our neighbour's chimney may spoil our dinner, whereas the death of a thousand men there will not even spoil our appetite.' As if among those thousand men there were not your own sons and brothers! But what is that to you?" "Everything to us; for an Englishman in Canada or Queensland is as much an Englishman as if he lived in Cornwall or Cumberland. Have you not seen Professor Seeley's book on 'The Expansion of England'?" "Have I not!" said Sir Thomas. "I read it through twice from cover to cover. It is a great book, a prophetic book, a book that presents truths to you in such a fashion that you marvel you never realized them before." "Then in that book, Sir Thomas," said his visitor, "you have the expression of the convictions and the aspirations of that Liberalism which is destined before very long to be the dominating force in English politics."

OPENINGS FOR WOMEN.

As yet, little or no complaint is heard in Canada that there are no openings for women in business. This wail is quite common in Great Britain and on the Continent. Ladies who complain that time perforce lays heavily upon their hands "should take a leaf out of the book of their American cousins. It is a note-book—the shorthand writer's note-book—to which they should direct their attention," says a contemporary. It is into the law courts that the American ladies have thrust their gentle presence. Taking down the speeches of other persons they find to be quite as pleasant and much more profitable, than speaking themselves. There is a clever young dressmaker in Buffalo, N. Y., who cast away pins and needles, bent her energies to shorthand, and in less than a year could write one hundred and fifty words a minute. She has found her right sphere. Three other ladies are mentioned who earn munificent incomes with their pens. Mrs. Sarah Grasby, who travels through seventeen counties with the assize courts, earns $9000; Mrs. J. R. Palmer, of Utica, $8000 a year; and Miss Jane Ballantyne, of Rochester, $5000 a year. In the Ontario courts they will be equally well paid. Each of the judges and courts have now their official reporters, whose duties can be efficiently performed by women. They are to be found on the staff of several of the large metropolitan journals performing their duties equally well with the sterner sex.

MR. GLADSTONE AND THE LORDS.

Mr. Gladstone in his Edinburgh oration has invented a "doctrine" for the House of Lords; and has dwelt upon it; widened its scope; and made political capital out of it with prodigious fertility. Yet the House of Lords has never asserted the "doctrine" at all; it is merely an incident of the contest, not a principle that is propounded. Referring to what he calls the assertion by the Lords of their right to dictate when and how an appeal shall be made to the people Mr. Gladstone says:

"This is a doctrine which has no place whatever in our history or our constitution. To tamper with that doctrine, to give it the smallest countenance, to admit one jot or tittle of it, would, in my opinion, be treason to British liberty; and I tell you fairly, I would far rather abandon my share in the Franchise bill, and that which would go with it, my share in political life, than for one moment cease to raise the loudest protest in my power against the introduction of this great innovation."

Mr. Gladstone confesses that he hopes to keep his share of political life on the strength of the Franchise bill. It is in fact a political bid and no more; and his postponement of re-distribution is simply a dodge to save parliamentary disaffection and popular disappointment. As for the Lords, they do not make any formal claim to the power of deciding when dissolutions shall take place. All they claim is that on the strength of the former declaration of Mr. Gladstone and his friends the two bills should come in together; and Lord Salisbury appeals to the people to decide between him and Mr. Gladstone. During the discussion the Conservaties have declared that the present House of Commons does not represent the people. In the couse of seven years it is quite conceivable that the representatives should cease to represent. In that time a vast addition has been made to the electorate; and as Liberals themselves are always wanting to appeal to the people their reluctance to do so on their own measure and on a battle ground selected by themselves, is more than suspicious.

SOME interesting figures with regard to the growth of the establishment belonging to Herr Krupp at Essen have just been published. In 1860 the Essen foundry had only 1764 workmen, but that number had risen to 7084 ten years later, and it is now upward of 20,000. Counting the women and children, Herr Krupp's establishment gives employment to 65,381 persons, of whom 29,000 live in houses belonging to their employer. The foundry is divided into eight sections, and there are 11 blast furnaces, 1542 other furnaces, 439 steam boilers, 82 steam hammers, and 450 steam engines representing 185,000 horse power. At Essen alone, to say nothing of the branch establishments, there are nearly 40 miles of rails, 28 locomotives, 883 trucks, 69 horses, 191 wagons, 40 miles of telegraph wires, 35 telegraph stations and 55 Morse instruments.

Women Votes.

The ladies in Washington Territory who exercise the privilege of voting, are calling on the candidates for the territorial legislature, to ascertain their views on the suffrage question. It seems that an effort will be made the coming session to appeal the act granting suffrage to women, and while they have the privilege of voting, the fair sex don't propose to vote for a candidate who will take that honor from them. A great many cards signed by women and addressed to the various candidates appear daily in the press of that territory.

AN AMERICAN SECRETARY RESIGNS.

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—The Boursen Courier commenting on the sudden resignation of H Sidney Everett, secretary of the American legation at Berlin, says: "The relations of Everett with the American colony in Berlin lately became unbearable. Everett no longer possessed the confidence of his countrymen. The trouble probably dates from the Sargent affair.

UNITED STATES.

BAD FAILURE AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Sept 21.—Buchman Bros., clothiers, assigned this afternoon to M. J. Mack and Herman Huzeman. Their statement to Bradstreets in July makes the capital about $100,000, with personal means of the firm of $33,000 more. Liabilities were then given of $50,000 to $75,000. No statement is made yet of the present condition, except that it is understood that preferences to the amount of $200,000 have been given, mainly to creditors in this city. Private advices from New York say that the firm owes Rindskopf Bros. & Co., of that city $150,000, but a membe of the firm yesterday stated to a representative of Bradstreets' agency that they had no financial relations whatever with Rindskopf Bros. & Co.

GOLD STRIKE IN GEORGIA.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—A special from Chattanooga, Tennessee, says: T. L. Winkley, an experienced gold prospector from New Mexico and Idaho, brought to this city to-day specimens of gold and silver ore taken from gold mines recently discovered in Murray county, Georgia, in sight of Bort mountain, about fifty miles from this city. Assays show an average of $27 per ton. One specimen of silver exhibited assayed $100 to the ton, and a specimen of gold quartz assayed $1,200. Great excitement prevails, and people are rushing to the mines from all directions. They are pronounced by experts to be among the richest fields discovered in America.

BAND OF YOUTHFUL THIEVES UNEARTHED.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 22.—The police of Stanford have unearthed a large band of depraved youths, many under 12 years of age, known as "The Shenandoah Gang." Their exploits are of the most depraved order, and reveal the existence of a miserable state of morals. The gang is under the leadership of a youth 20 years old. The trouble has sprung entirely from novel reading and flash literature, large quantities of which have been found in their rendezvous. The gang is responsible for the petty thieving which is going on in this part of the state and there is general rejoicing over their apprehension. A recital of their miserable deeds would fill a good sized volume. They are in training to fill the jails with ravishers, drunkards and thieves.

FATALLY INJURED BY A MOB.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—An Albany special says of the probable murder of a Salvation Army girl: They were quietly returning to headquarters when assailed by a crowd of young roughs, with fists and clubs, who accompanied the attack with the foulest language. The army reached its hall, except Miss Lucy Johnson, a most agreeable young woman, who was last to reach the door, where she was struck a violent blow over the back of the head, and fell with a cry for mercy. During the night the girl had delirious spasms, and to-day a physician pronounced her injuries probably fatal. Miss Johnson is from Brooklyn.

CHINESE PRIMARIES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Primaries were held in Chinatown last evening, to nominate a chief magistrate for the coming year. The candidates were Ah Chow, the present incumbent, Ah Chung, and Lo Han. Over 300 votes were cast, which were about equally divided between the two last named, Ah Chow not receiving one vote. The office has semi-official sanctum from the Chinese Government and has attached to it a salary of $500 per year, besides fees and perquisites.

MINERS' WIVES ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Pittsburg special says: At Washington, Pennsylvania, three women who had been intercepting non-unionists with tin pans, were arrested. They furnished bail, and, reinforced by 200 others, repeated the offense with ten-fold vigor. The women have been informed that if they substitute mouth organs for tin pans they can escape arrest. This they will probably do.

DISSOLUTION OF A STOCK FIRM.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—A brief formal notice was read from the rostrum of the stock exchange yesterday, announcing the dissolution of the firm of Hatch, Brooks & Hamlin, stock brokers, 77, Exchange Place, by the withdrawal of John R. Hatch, senior partner, and the contemplated reorganization of the firm by the remaining parties. A story was circulated on Wall street that Hatch has been forced to leave the firm by reason of having speculations on his own account. Hatch is a son of A. S. Hatch, of Fisk & Hatch.

THE DISHONEST SECRETARY OF THE CHOSEN FRIENDS STILL ALIVE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Isaac L. Fang, Grand Secretary of the Chosen Friends, who attempted to commit suicide yesterday, is still in a critical condition, and there is simply a chance for his recovery. Lang's defalcation was discovered two weeks ago. He acknowledged that he was short in his accounts to the amount of $6000, but made no statement as to how the money was embezzled. It was stated, however, that the sum will go above $6000, but under $8000. Mr. Lang is a member of several beneficial societies in this city, and there is at least $15,000 due on his life.

THE TALLAPOOSA NOT TO BLAME.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The court of inquiry appointed to investigate the circumstance of the collision between the Tallapoosa and the Baltimore schooner finds the Tallapoosa did all in her power to avoid the collision; that she complied with the law in all respects, and that the blame for the collision rests with the schooner.

The Chinese Commission.

The following letter appears in a recent issue of the Toronto Globe: "Sir—Allow me through the columns of your paper to ask what object the Ottawa Government hoped to attain by sending a Chinese Commission to British Columbia? Do they think that our representatives were misrepresenting us, when they asked for an abatement of the Mongolian plague? Do they think our Local Government was joking when session after session it passed restrictive laws agains Chinamen? Do they think the people of British Columbia would be guilty of the anomaly of electing representatives who hold an opinion on this matter at variance with the wishes of their constituents? If the answer is no to these questions, then let me ask, do they think that we in British Columbia are incompetent to decide what is beneficial and desirable for our Province? If, after a residence of 10, 15 and 20 years among Chinese, the people of this Province cannot decide intelligently whether a Chinaman is a blessing or a curse, is it likely that Mr. Chapleau's opinion will be infallible after a week's visit? These are the things that puzzle the BRITISH COLUMBIAN."

New Westminster, B. C., Aug. 25.

The New Theater.

Last evening a meeting of the subscribers to the new theater fund was held at the Driard House. Mr. Rithet presided. The announcement was made by the Secretary that the entire amount required, $50,000, had been subscribed, consisting of 100 shares of $500 each. The following directors were elected: Messrs. R. Dunsmuir, R. P. Rithet, L. Redon, John Kurtz and Senator Nelson. A motion was made and carried, that Senator Nelson's lot, corner of View and Douglass streets, be purchased at a cost not exceeding $15,000. The directors were instructed to advertise for plans for a theater with a seating capacity of not less than 800 people. Several very neat plans were submitted from Victoria, Portland and Seattle architects. The new theater will be a credit to the city, and one which we are very much in need, as the present accommodations are the means of keeping away many good troupes, which otherwise would favor Victoria theater goers with their presence.

The Water Works.

The party who made an official visit to the water works at Beaver and Elk lakes yesterday, which consisted of His Worship Mayor Carey and members of the City Council, together with other city officials, returned last evening highly pleased with their trip. They found everything to be neat and clean and in a state of perfection. One of the filter beds had been dried in order that a more thorough examination could be made. But little vegetable matter was to be seen and the water is considered as pure as that furnished the inhabitants of any city in the Northwest. The Mayor and others expressed themselves as being proud of the condition of affairs, and thought the city deserved much credit for the enterprise displayed in possessing so satisfactory a system of water works. A neat cottage has recently been erected for the keeper of the works at a cost of $1100.

Freight From Victoria.

After the 1st of October all bonded goods from Victoria will be made up in car loads in Tacoma and sent through direct to the east and will not be handled by the custom house authorities in Portland. Freight coming bonded from Canada to Victoria and New Westminster will also come as far as Tacoma, without being broken. At that point it will be transferred to the steamer. At present merchandise bound to this city from Canada is transferred to the boat at Portland, thence to the cars again at Kalama. By the time it reaches Victoria considerable damage has been done from so much handling.

Steamer Connections.

Arrangements have been made by the C. P. N. Co., by which, after September 29th, freight and passengers will be able to reach different Provincial points without detention. The steamer leaving Victoria every Wednesday morning at 7 a. m. for Nanaimo will connect at the latter place with the steamer Robert Dunsmuir for Comax, and the steamer leaving Victoria every Friday morning for New Westminster will connect there with the steamer for Granville, Moodyville and Port Moody.

Killing Game.

Several complaints have been made about the wholesale slaughter of game which has been taking place since the opening of the shooting season. This morning William Shields and George Elliott appeared in court to answer the charge of having in their possession 25 deer which had been slaughtered for hides. As the evidence was not all ready the case was adjourned till to-morrow.

Held for Postage.

The following letters are held for postage in the office here: E W Brooke, New Tacoma; Mrs A Fisher, Sydney, N S Wales, Mrs Innis, Esquimalt, Kwong Hang Tai, Portland, Or; R Middleton, Seattle, W T; Hugh Miller, Toronto, Ont; Miss M Oden, New Westminster; Frank Rance, Irondale, W T; Miss M Tasker, St Catherines, Ont; Jos Virnocke, Butte City, U S; Jas Wright, Jackson, W T.

Sale of Fancy Goods.

At Humboldt Hall to-night the sale of fancy and ornamental goods which were presented to the ladies of the Reformed Episcopal Church by Lady Douglas, will be commenced. It is expected the bazaar will be continued for two or three nights. Doors will be opened at 7 p. m., and music and refreshments will be supplied. The ladies will be pleased to have a full attendance of friends.

Depressed Grain Market.

Business is said to be very slow in Puget Sound towns and Portland. Several failures have taken place recently in the latter city, and the future outlook is not as bright as it might be. Charters for the U. K. and Continent are low, owing to the depressed grain market, the foreign demand being very limited, as compared with former years.

Hymenial.

Mr. Alex. Cowan of this city was married in Hamilton, Ont., on the 18th inst., to Miss Louise Belton of that city. They will leave for their future home about the 1st of October. Mr. Cowan's many friends in this city extend to the happy couple their congratulations.

A Temperance Paper.

The Seattle Mirror, a well-conducted liquor prohibition weekly journal, edited by Mr. Espy, has suspended.

LOCAL NOTES.

The large iron transfer boat to be used in transferring trains across the Columbia river at Kalama, is now at her post of duty.

A car-load of this season's hops, from Puyallup Valley, W. T., have gone east over the Northern Pacific. The demand from England is said to be good.

Consignees by the North Pacific to-day were Thos. Earle, E. Lobe & Co., Young Bros., J. G. Ryan, J. Gassion, McKenzie & Master.

A dray horse belonging to "Chris" made things lively for a few minutes to-day. The start was made on Wharf street, and the run was continued through several streets until the horse was stopped by a gentleman on horseback.

Fashionable Elopements.

It seems to be the fashion now-a-days in the States for young ladies of wealth and refinement to create a sensation by eloping with their father's coachman or some other person far below them socially, whom they may accidentally see around their father's establishment. The following is the latest from Chicago which appears in a dispatch from that city, under date of September 20: "A published statement is made here that Miss Etta Turnbull, only daughter of N. S. H. Turnbull, the wealthy pork packer, has eloped with Alexander Nervon, employed in Turnbull's packing establishment as a slaughterman. He is described as a handsome member of the South Side Episcpal Church choir. Nervon is declared to have acquired some means of his own, and is a man of fine physical appearance. The affair became public through Mr. Turnbull procuring the services of detectives for the purpose of ascertaining the whereabouts of his daughter."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. Lancey Stone, of Oakland, Cal., is stopping at the Driard.

Mr. D. W. Smith, of Port Townsend, is stopping at the Occidental.

Mr. Hugh Murray, a well-known merchant of New Westminster, is in the city, the guest of the Oriental.

Mr. William Ludgate and wife, of Honolulu, are visiting Victoria. They are located at the Occidental.

Dr. R. J. Bentley and wife, of New Westminster, are registered at the Driard. He was a passenger on the Mexico.

Mr. Chas. Fisher, of Hale, has returned from Cape Cod where he went a few weeks since for a "fair partner." Mr. and Mrs. Fisher are at present quartered at the Oriental.

Mr. W. H. Marshall, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, with headquarters at Portland, came over on last evening's steamer and is booked at the Driard.

Mr. Hall, of Hall & Goepel, who has been confined to his room for the past two weeks with an attack of rheumatic fever, is recovering, and expects to be around again this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, of Wicklow, Ireland, arrived in Victoria last evening and are at the Oriental. Mr. Thompson, who is a prominent and wealthy gentleman, proposes to make his future residence in this city. They are accompanied by Mr. John F. Tylter.

Six Hundred Miles on Wheels.

Winnipeg Sun: Six members of the Winnipeg Bicycle Club intend leaving in a few days on a 600 mile bicycle tour through the Province. They will leave in the morning, making the Portage the same evening, and from there will ride to Brandon, Rapid City, Minnedosa and Shoal Lake, returning to Brandon they will ride to Souris, Deloraine, through the Turtle Mountains, Southern Manitoba, Pembina Mountains and home via Emerson. The trip will occupy two weeks in all, and will be the longest Canadian tour ever taken on wheels.

Theater Royal.

A fair audience assembled last evening to witness the second production of "Rip Van Winkle." The characters were, as a rule, well sustained, and it was apparent that the play was highly appreciated by those present. To-night "Kathleen Mavourneen" will be given.

MARINE NOTES.

The schooner Isabella left the harbor at an early hour this morning for the east coast.

The steam schooner Anna Beck, Capt. Bentley, arrived to-day from Nanaimo with a cargo of coal.

The British bark Rover of the Seas, from London for this port, was spoken July 27 in lat. 15 N, lon. 26 W.

The steamship Mexico had an unusually good run up, having experienced favorable weather during the entire trip.

The steamship Mexico, Capt. Huntington, arrived at the outer wharf from San Francisco at 4 o'clock this morning.

The schooner Dolphin, Capt. Waner, sails to-day for Alberni, Barclay Sound, with a cargo of general merchandise.

The steamship Mexico is having a new rudder-stock made in San Francisco, her old one being considered pretty well worn out.

The steamship Queen of the Pacific will probably make one more trip to this port before being placed on the Portland route.

The British ship Agnes Southerland sailed from Portland on the 18th inst., for England with the first cargo of this season's wheat.

The tugboat Hope, of Port Townsend, will have her boilers inspected to-day. She is said to have been bought by Mr. W. P. Sayward.

The steamship Wellington, while trying to make a landing at San Francisco, recently, ran into the Broadway dock, doing damage to the extent of several hundreds of dollars.

The new schooner Skeena, Captain Spence, is taking on a cargo of general merchandise for Port Assington, on the Skeena river. She will sail about Saturday.

On August 1st the British ship St. Elmo and the British bark Ingleside sailed from Valparaiso for this port. On Aug. 5th the ship John De Costa also sailed from Valparaiso for Victoria.

The steamer Western Slope went to New Westminster yesterday morning in place of the Yosemite, the latter having gone to Esquimalt to discharge salmon on board of the bark Fred Lichfield.

The ship James G. Bain, now at Esquimalt, is discharging a portion of her cargo, consisting of powder, on a barge, after which she will come to Victoria. Some 2000 kegs of powder are consigned to R. Dunsmuir, and will be towed to Nanaimo on a barge.

The British ship Roxburgshire, 929 tons net, is 349 days out from Astoria for United Kingdom, and fears are entertained for her safety. She was loaded with 1435 tons by C. Cæsar & Co., and was valued at £14,700. Nothing has been heard of the vessel since she left Astoria, and she has doubtless been lost.

For Lumber.

Steamer Alexander left to-day with the bark Phineas Pendleton, Capt. Blanchard, which will load lumber at Moodyville mill, Burrard Inlet.

SICK IN LOVE.

A Cabinet Minister's Son Mashed On a Lady Student.

The Ottawa Free Press says: It is only a short time since the Ladies' College was opened, but brief though the period may be, it is sufficiently long to have allowed the son of a Cabinet Minister to have fallen sick in love with one of the lady students. With him it was almost love at first sight. He only saw the object of his adoration a couple of times when he proceeded to a jeweler's store, purchased diamonds to the extent of $1,000, and at once despatched the precious articles to his lady love. Enclosed with them was a note asking the fair one to keep and wear the same on the understanding that from that time she was engaged to him. On receipt of the diamonds the young lady student was in a dilemma. She respected the donor highly, but did not make up her mind as to an engagement. Not knowing very well how to act she consulted some of the other students, who at once advised her to stick to the diamonds by all means. She did so, and returned a polite note thanking the young gentleman for his present. Since that time the son of a government official, whose duties are more or less connected with the sitting of Parliament, has been paying the young lady considerable attention, and the outcome of it is that she has fallen desperately in love with him, and has forgotten the gentleman who gave her the valuable present which she wears and prizes so much for its own sake. The son of the cabinet minister is enraged. He thinks he could stand being jilted, but to lose $1,000 to the bargain is more than he cares to bear. While he talks about a duel and the like, with the man who supplanted him, the young lady sports his diamonds, complacently takes in the situation, and all the lady students of the college are having any amount of fun over the whole affair.

A Marine Row.

The schooner Mary Ellen, which lately returned from the seal fishery, seems to to have had some rough times on board. This morning the master, Daniel McLean, charged George Plow, the cook, with having assaulted him with a carving fork, while on the high seas. From McLean's evidence it appears that Plow refused to do the cooking, and on that account about one-half a day's work of the whole crew was lost. He estimated the time as worth about $300 per day. When he went to the bed the prisoner had attacked him with a large fork. Mr. Helmcken, who appeared for the defense, asked for an adjournment, to allow of the ship's log being produced. Mr. Wilson, for the prosecution, agreed to this, which was done.

Another Tichborne Case.

The Supreme Court of Minnesota has appointed Mr. O'Marin, notary public, Montreal, to take evidence in the suit of J. Desnoyers, of Nebraska, against Dennis Ryan, St. Paul, Minn. Desnoyers claims to be the son of Stephen Desnoyers, on whose death some six years ago, his sisters took possession and sold to Ryan his property, consisting largely of land in and between St. Paul and Minneapolis, valued at $350,000. The defendant alleges that George Desnoyers is not the son of Stephen Desnoyers, but of Anthony Desnoyers, Stephen's brother, who brought George up from infancy. The claimant alleges that Stephen paid Anthony $200 per year for his keep, and that he was always recognized as Stephen's son. The case seems likely to be nearly as interesting as that of the Tichborne claimant.

The Beaty Head-Line Copy Book.

A suit has been pending for many months between W. J. Gage & Co., and the Canada Publishing Co., of Toronto, in reference to "Head-line copy books." The case was decided in favor of Messrs. Gage & Co., but afterwards appealed against. The publications of Messrs. Gage are becoming very popular, as they are superior to those imported from the United States being unusually adapted to our own country.

The Northern Pacific.

It seems to be a very difficult matter for the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co. and the Northern Pacific Railroad Company to come to terms. For some time past an effort has been made by the latter company to get control of the former, but a great deal of trouble is being experienced. When President Harris of the Northern Pacific visited the Sound not long since, he remarked that should his company lease the O. R. & N. Co.'s system there would be no change in the running of the Sound steamers. The Oregonian, in a recent issue, in speaking about the matter says: "The O. R. & N. submitted a second proposition, offering to lease at 6 per cent. for the first year, 7 per cent. the second year, and after that a division of profits, if the profits should be more than 7 per cent. per annum above the fixed charges. This proposition is now under discussion, but whether any conclusion has been reached or not is not known to any of the officers here. There is strong probability that some agreement will be reached. It is understood that Mr. Cyrus W. Field, who is a large owner and represented the New York syndicate in his recent inspection of the property, favored the lease, and that Mr. John H. Hall, who is a director of the Northern Pacific, the O. R. & N. and Oregon and Transcontinental companies, has the same views. It is understood that the stockholders at the annual meeting authorized the directors to enter into a lease if they thought it was for the best. In case they decide to lease, the matter must come up before the Oregon board of directors of the O. R. & N. for confirmation.

Esmond Hotel Burned.

On Monday night the Esmond hotel in Portland was completely destroyed by fire. The Esmond was the leading hotel in that city and a great favorite with all who have ever stopped there. All the guests were rescued, but the building and contents were consumed, aggregating a loss of $160,000. Lawrence Barrett, the actor, and some of the members of his troup were stopping at the hotel, but escaped uninjured. They saved all of their baggage.

Prizes For Beauties.

The directors of the Toronto Industrial exhibition offered prizes for the best types of Canadian beauties. None exhibited themselves. One of the papers of that city asks: "Types of Canadian beauties where are they? Echo answers where. The committee having charge of the ladies' department feeling convinced that the type of beauty, which is the special characteristic of our Canadian ladies, is not surpassed by any country in the world, with a view of demonstrating the fact, decided to offer two valuable prizes for the portraits of the most beautiful living Canadian ladies. Seemingly, however, no one desired to demonstrate this fact, as not a single entry in this class has been received. Manager Hill's great attraction then falls to the ground, and he will have to look around to see if he cannot meet with a good substitute."

Change of Belief.

The Globe says that M. Gregoire, for eight years a Roman Catholic priest in British Columbia, has been converted to Protestantism, and is now laboring in Shefford county, Quebec.

United States September Crop Report.

The United States Agricultural Report, September 10th, states: "The product of winter wheat is about the average, and is generally of good quality. The results of the harvest of spring wheat are not yet complete, and the product cannot be precisely indicated. It is probable from the reported condition of the crop already harvested and threshed that the aggregate will vary little from 500,000,000 bushels. The reports of much higher figures are sensational and misleading, and utterly unworthy of credence.

"The corn crop is in better condition than in any September since 1880. It promises a yield of not less than 1,800,000,000 bushels, and the largest crop ever reported.

"The oat crop will aggregate over 500,000,000 bushels. Its condition was 95 per cent. when harvested, which is lower than the past two years, but higher than for four years since 1878.

"The London agent of the Department cables that the year will not be one of superabundance; that European wheat, though above an average in product, will be less than in 1882. European importing countries need 260,000,000 bushels above production. European countries exporting can supply 80,000,000 bushels, leaving 180,000,000 bushels to be obtained from other countries. Stocks are not excessive, there is increased consumption of wheat, and it is the general opinion that the lowest prices have been reached.

The Way of the World.

A youth would marry a maiden,
For fair and fond was she;
But she was rich and he was poor,
And so it might not be.
A lady never could wear—
Her mother held it firm—
A gown that came of an Indian plant
Instead of an Indian worm!
And so the cruel word was spoken;
And so it was two hearts were broken.

A youth would marry a maiden,
For fair and fond was she;
But he was high and she was low,
And so it might not be.
A man who had worn a spur,
An ancient battle won,
Had sent it down with great renown,
To goad his future son!
And so the cruel word was spoken;
And so it was two hearts were broken.

Wires Down.

The telegraphic service is still under the weather, and THE TIMES was unable to procure its usual afternoon dispatches to-day. It would be a good scheme to place the wires under the ground so that every time a leaf or twig drops from a tree there would not be so much danger of breaking (?) these delicate threads of metal.

From Seattle.

The steamer Eliza Anderson arrived this afternoon from Seattle bringing the following passengers: E Douglass, W Jones, R Brothenton, J Brothenton, C N Nicholson, M C Powers, H S Strange, Mrs Hermsson, and child, Mrs E Hunt, Mrs Stafford and child, J L Pitchford, Oliver Stevens, R Switson, C M Wellington, Miss Phillips, R H Crasswell, J Wright, J M Adams, Miss Lizzie Taylor.

The Daily Times.

Victoria, Tuesday, Sept. 23, 1884.

MAY IN THE NORTH.

Now once again on field and hill
The violet's eyes are blue,
The anemone an l daffodil
Their loveliness renew.

The birch uncloses tender hands,
The maple sheds its bloom,
But still in sight old winter stands
With threat'ning brow of gloom.

Ay! frown and threaten all you may,
Old tyrant, fierce and strong!
The sun is moving up this way,
I hear the robin's song!

A tremor of the bygone springs
Is quick'ning in my blood;
The children shout, the brooklet sings
And roars the falling flood.

Once more the emerald grass shall grow
Above the winter's dead,
And summer bend her iris bow
Where clouds were dull as lead.

Here are the blackbirds, and the joy
Of many an an olden year
Is in their songs. Come, little boy!
Farewell, gray man austere!

Come, little boy, for you and I,
And I and you are one;
We'll follow where the swallows fly,
We'll cheer the setting sun.

For us the sparrow hides her nest
In copses green and low,
The bluebird suns his purple breast,
The tortoise moveth slow.

The saucy chipmunk digs his hole,
The shining lizard slides;
Her hammock swings the oriole,
The rush-grown pond abides.

For us the worm is in the ground,
The fish is in the stream;
And energy and health abound,
And care is but a dream;

And so, my boy, my little boy,
Be happy while you may.
Your harvests frosts shall not destroy,
Nor shall your wealth decay.

The treasure-trove of childhood's hours
Alone survives the years;
Their blossoms are perennial flowers
That memory wets with tears.

The poet sings his sweetest songs
Of youth and vernal skies,
And children walk in joyous throngs
The fields of paradise.

Give me a touch of heaven and spring
And each unfolding leaf,
And bursting bud and sprouting thing
Renews some sweet belief;

Some sweet belief, some tender thought,
Some memory vague and old,
Some charm the blessing seasons brought
When love was more than gold;

Till I can smell the budding spice
And feel the woodland hush
Thrilled by that forest cantatrice,
The wildly-warbling thrush.

No more I see the northern pine,
Nor wait the daisies' bloom;
The blue-bells in the fields are mine
And mine the haw's perfume.

For me the Indiana woods
Put on their best attire,
And all their tangled solitudes
Are glad with youth's desire.

The red bud flames beside the stream,
The orchard boughs are white;
The catbird sings his tipsy dream,
And I sing you "Good night."

BENJ. S. PARKER.

SHERBROOKE, P. Q., May 26.

The Formal "Call."

[Detroit Free Press.]

Whatever may betide, men have good cause to rejoice that they bear no part in that crowning bore of all bores known as the "formal call." That is a feminine institution. It is an invention of the sex, and the sex groans under its yoke.

Man smokes his Durham in beatific peace, whilst the wife and daughters pay tribute to the formal call. He hears the sotto voce prayer that parties will be out, and that the matter can be dispatched with a card. He quietly notes the sigh of relief when the exhausted women return after hours of social distress. He observes the tax of dress incident to the affair, the bad temper it invokes, and the hypocrisy and total absence of any equivalent in the way of pleasure for all this slavish adherence to custom, and then dimly realizes the miraculous felicity of his own escape from such thraldom, and it may be takes comfort in the thought that the whole business falls totally on those who have made him pay the piper for countless other freaks and whims of fashion and caprice.

The elasticity of conscience with which the gentle creatures endeavor to mitigate the infliction of the formal call by convenient fibs, furnishes the masculine monster some amusing food for study, and it may be doubted whether he would budge an inch to abolish the formal call. It is diamond cut diamond; women annoying women. In such a transaction the wise man holds aloof and lets the dainty belligerents masquerading as friends manage the hollow and artificial show as suits themselves. It is not often that he has an opportunity of keeping out of a game in which women array their wits against one another, instead of against the common tyrant, man. He is at liberty to be judiciously d'ent and hear the fair prattlers discuss each other in a style utterly unlike the fancy pictures of novelists and poets, and if he doesn't get some wholesome enlightenment he is hopelessly stupid.

Making a Convert.

[Rev. Myron W. Reed.]

When reasons of hygiene do not absolutely forbid, I like to see the man next the door, coming home from a day's work, rise promptly and sweetly, and give his seat to a lady, and then I like to see her as promptly and sweetly refuse to take it. She who does this has covered a multitude of sins, and made a convert to the doctrine of woman suffrage.

Northwestern Miller: The world needs nothing more than it needs reformation in its cookery.

An Economical Irish Car Driver.

[The Spectator.]

A gentleman, overhearing a car driver asking an exorbitant fare of an unsuspecting foreigner, expostulated with him on his audacious misstatements of the tariff, concluding with the words, "I wonder you haven't more regard for the truth." "Och, indeed, thin, I've a great dale more regard for the truth than to be dithragging her out on every paltry occasion," was the reply.

John Grain, county constable at Toronto, was arrested on a warrant charged with till tapping at Sutherland's book store, Yonge street, on the 3d inst. A warrant had been accidentally left in the till by the thief which led to his arrest.
